Blaze in Officers' Quarters of "Mayflower" Causes Property Loss of $500.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The presidential yacht "Mayflower" was burned out today when the yacht was tied up at the Navy Yard here. A board of inquiry was convened to determine the origin of the fire. Damage was estimated at $500.

Secretary Daniels said the amount of the damage had not been determined, but that a number of the officers on the vessel lost all of their personal effects. The fire was extinguished before it reached the state dining-room and the President's quarters.

Eight newspaper reporters and photographers who entered the navy yard to examine the marine guard were arrested and held at the commandant's office for questioning, but when news of their detention reached Mr. Daniels he ordered their immediate release.

CONFLICTING VIEWS ARE GIVEN HARDING ON PEACE QUESTION

As acting chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Senator McCumber also talked with the President-elect about taxation and tariff proposals. He held out little hope that the present session of Congress would do more than pass appropriation bills and a budget measure.

A plea for appointment of a former service man to a Cabinet position was made Senator Harding today by John J. Maher, of Lincoln, Neb., one of the organizers of the American Legion, who also discussed the soldiers' bonus proposition with the President-elect.

Mr. Maher asked specifically that Colonel Theodore Roosevelt be appointed to some Cabinet position or be given an assistant's position under one of the Cabinet officers.

SECRET DIPLOMACY BLAMED FOR PRESENT WAR STATE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Whether secret diplomacy brought on the great war is open to debate, but that it is "to blame for the war being not in fact yet ended few will doubt," Paul S. Reinsch, former minister to China, said tonight in his presidential address before the American Political Science Association.

"The statesmen who made the deliberations of the peace conference secret," Mr. Reinsch said, "would only be justified on the supposition that freedom from outside interference would enable them promptly to agree on a solution, which, in its completeness, would be accepted as equitable and wise by the public opinion of the nations." That expectation was not fulfilled.

"The worst failure of modern diplomacy is the attempt to cover with idealist professions and with talk of protecting integrity and independence specific aims tending to a contrary result."

Police to Receive Bloodhound Pups

"Doc" McDonough, of Second Station, Buys Two Famous Dogs.

Two bloodhound puppies have been purchased by "Doc" McDonough, magistrate at the Second Police Station, to be used by the Richmond Police Department, as soon as they are trained to chase criminals. These canines, who are noted for their remarkable ability to follow the scent of persons they are set to trail, were obtained from the celebrated Rockwood Kennels in Lexington, Ky.

The puppies were ordered three days ago and are expected to arrive about the end of the week. "Doc" gets his title because of the fact he is a veterinary surgeon, and there is no doubt that the dogs will receive the best of attention. They are to be sent to a kennel near Richmond, where they will be trained for police work.

It has been many years since bloodhounds have been used in this locality.

little trouble. "We have no time to day counts, and there need be no fears that funds will not be forthcoming."

Dr. O. L. Hatcher stated that patients were no small affairs and that large sums of money would be needed. She pointed to Philadelphia and St. Louis for illustration. It cost the former city more than $100,000 to present a historical pageant such as is proposed, and St. Louis spent more than $200,000.

A general discussion along this line brought out the fact that a number of organizations had costumes, which they could utilize, notably the Independent Order of Red Men, of which there were representatives present.

Costumes already available. It was suggested by one of the speakers that the various divisions might look after the costuming of their particular divisions. In this way the general expense would be considerably cut, and there would be no great demand for a princely sum in the treasury.

All these details will be taken care of by the committee to be named at the next meeting, said Chairman Powell. The resolution which was adopted will provide committees which will go into all the details, and everything will be done as quickly as possible to provide a perfect and most comprehensive program upon which to work.

W. B. Criddle, in response to a question asked by Mrs. Granville Valentine, said that the idea was to keep it as far from the commercial attitude as possible, and to bring it entirely within the historical atmosphere.

"I hope we will not get mixed up with the Pilgrims," said Mrs. Randolph. "We should fix some date to work from and get away from the Pilgrim idea as far as possible. They are getting everything, and much of it, from the time John Smith came up to the falls of the James, or the time the Pilgrims landed at Jamestown."

Mr. Criddle went on to say that the date probably would be fixed at the next meeting, as May 13, and the celebration would continue for a week, with leading events of Virginia's history fully exemplified.

Some of the delegates stated that they were present as couriers and investigators what they could take back to their organizations, and while they were satisfied with their own, they were convinced they could not act on anything definite at this meeting. When they learned that the meeting was designed merely for temporary organization and for full expressions of opinion, they were advisedly submitted that their organizations were in accord with everything in the line of process and for the good of their city and State.

Mrs. C. F. Reynolds, of the Federation of Mothers' Clubs and representing also the Mizzipp Home Club, of the Eastern Star, said one of her organizations had been working for a small pageant at Murphy's Hotel, and in one night cleared $700.

It was proposed that the main features of the pageant be held at some accessible point, and that expenses should be estimated and raised in part through admission. This will be considered at the proper time by the permanent committee designed to look into such matters.
